INDIAN WELFARE UNDER INQUIRY

Owens Valley was visited Tuesday and yesterday by a party comprising Senators Lynn J. Frazer, of North Dakota, chairman, Elmer Thomsa, of Oklahoma, and B. S. Wheeler, of Montana, members of the Senate Committee on Indian Affairs; Fred H. Diaker, assistant to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs; A. L. Watham, head of the irrigation department of the Indian Service; A. A. Grorard, legal adviser of the Senate committee; H. B. Weaver, of Washington, stenographer; Supt. C. L. Ellis, of Mission agency, Riverside; O. H. Lipps, superintendent Sacramento agency; Ray R. Parrett, superintendent Schurz agency; J. E. White, extension agent, San Diego; F. H. Snider, superintendent Carson agency; Louis C. Mueller, probation officer, Carson.

The delegation held a hearing in the courtroom at Independence Tuesday evening, at which were also present the Supervisors, Mrs. Robinson, County Superintendent, Miss Truscott, of Bishop union grammar school, Commissioner Baumgartner, Chief Engineer Van Norman and A. J. Ford, of Los Angeles; Senator Riley, Mayor Lutz, and others.

D. R. Gilland, of the local Indian subagency, testified on general conditions, and a number of the Indians also testified. They told of conditions, especially the lack of employment due to the buying of ranches by Los Angeles. They said that all they wanted was a chance to work, and they did not want to leave this valley.

A Fish Springs Indian who owns 80 acres but has water enough for only three acres said he could not get work, and the city would not give him work because he was a property owner. "Can't you raise enough on 80 acres to live on?" was asked. "I just got water enough for three acres; I got land, but I can't eat land."

A letter was written by Los Angeles officials in June to the Indian authorities suggesting that representatives of the government and of the city be named as a committee with power to act to arrange for Indian welfare. The letter said that about 88 per cent of the water-bearing lands and 75 per cent of the town real estate had then been acquired by the city.

The attitude of the Senate committee was sympathetic and friendly to the Indians, and the conclusion was favorable to action on the line suggested by Los Angeles. Senator Frazer expressed privately an intention of pushing the matterto an early conclusion.

Nothing was said of closing the Riverside school. Some other Indian boarding schools have been closed, however, and the enrollment at Riverside has been reduced from 1200 to 900. The Riverside school will not be closed this winter in any event.

Because of the reduced capacity at Riverside, Subagent Gilland this week sent four boys and two girls to the school at Phoenix, Bud Gravelle leaving with them Sunday morning.

SULPHUR MINES

Supervisor Claude R. Ford has finished running a grader over 25 miles of road connecting the sulphur mines locality in Eureka valley with the Westgard route near Gilbert summit. The road is in the districts of Supercvisors Ford, Partridge and Naylor.

W. A. Sanger and Bernardo Albertoli are shipping sulphur ore, via Zurich, from a claim on which they have secured an option. The new road, which is said to shorten the trip for shippers by four hours of time, and the work being done by Sanger and Albertoli is encouring others to go ahead with development in that vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland McMurry will take over the Clark hotel at the end of the week, and make changes for a larger run of general custom. Charley Hirano, long its manager, will take his family back to Japan.

GOOD WILL TRIP

Contemplated for several months, a gooodwill tour to Bishop may be staged by the Reno Chamber of Commerce within the next few weeks, according to a decision reached at a meeting of the board of directors yesterday, provided fifty Reno residents signify their intentions of making the trip.

The tour will probably be made over some week-end, and Bridgeport, Mono lake and Owens valley will be visited. A caravan of automobiles will carry the Reno residents on the tour which will be similar to that made to Quincy earlier this summer.—Reno Gazette.

REGISTRATION

Citizens who have not registered this year must attend to that civic duy before midnight of September 29 to be qualified to vote at the November election. If not registered by one week from to-night, no vote. The same date is the limit for transferring from one precinct to another. One properly registered but changing his or her precinct in the same county within thirty days preceding the election is entiled to vote in the precinct of original registration.

LAKE-HESSE

Married in Goldfield September 16, 1932, Richard Lake to Miss Myrna Hesse. The groom's mother, Mrs. Lake, and the bride's father, Milton J. Hesse, were married not long ago, and the young people have thus followed the parental example and made the family arrangement what may be termed a close corporation. May it endure happily for all time.

TOWN RATE $1.54

A tax levy of $1.00 for general purposes and 54 cents for bond and interest payments was made by the City Council in session Monday night.

LISTING WORKINGMEN

Mayor D. E. Lutz last week received an invitation from the State Department of Public Works to submit the names of 50 unemployed men from Bishop and vicinity. The names are for the use of department engineers, to be drawn upon in the campaign of relief work to begin about Oct. 3.

The men proposed must be American citizens and registered electors. They must be married men or single men who are the sole support of parents or minors of blood relationship. The work will be on a three day basis, and the wage will be $4 per day.

This call for registration of men of family is not, we understand, connected with the federal aid projects which are to go ahead before December 1, and which Division Engineer Vickrey stated would probably call for all available local labor. Those contracts, when let, will require the contractors to employ local labor so far as it can be obtained.

FIRE SUNDAY

An overheated stovepipe is given as the cause of a fire which started Sunday afternoon in or above the ceiling of a dwelling at the corner of Clarke and Sneden streets. The fire apparatus, both town and city, was slower than usual in getting into action. When the delayed city chemical truck got to work the blaze sweeping under the roof was soon overcome. Direct and indirect fire damage is estimated at 50 per cent and water damage at 25 per cent more. The building, belonging to Mrs. Sarah Clark, was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Horace Berry.

POLETA

Beauregard brothers are meeting encouraging success in working ore from the old Poleta dumps. A 20-ton ball mill, amalgamation and flotation are recovering all the value but 20 cents per ton, according to tests of the tailings. Work will be done in the mine with the expectation of developing new ore bodies.

Much wealth has come from the property in time past, though it was worked in only a small way. The mill is located on the site of the old one, used many years ago.

EXAMINE YOUR FLUES

More than fifty defective flues in town property that has been acquired by Los Angeles have been examined and remedied by Fire Marshal Walter J. Land during the last few months. This, coupled wih the fac that the preponderance of alarms have come from property still privately owned, should suggest to owners the advisability of having all flues carefully looked over and fixed where necessary, as doubtless it is in some cases.

MOUNTAIN HOME BURNED

The large Dear cabin, or more properly dwelling, on the south fork of Bishop creek, was burned, with much of the contents, last Sunday morning. Origin of fire unknown. We are informed that the small available force of fire fighters did splendid work in preventing the destruction of other property.

Mr. and. Mrs. Wm. Lyle Skinner and Mr. Skinner's mother Mrs. Maggie Skinner left last Thursday morning, after briefly visiting Mrs. Jessie MacIver here, on their way from Lone Pine to San Francisco. From the latter city they were to go to Eugene, Oregon, where they have leased a place for a year's trial of a new clime. Louis Skinner and family went ahead a week or two earlier. They have sold their property at Lone Pine, where Max M. Skinner now remains the only member of the family that has been prominent in Lone Pine affairs for more than fifty years.

The Sacramento Bee, announcing the snow-fighting program of the Division of Highways, says that the Mono Basin highway will be kept open during the winter.

FATAL SHOOTING AT M'GEE CREEK

A fatal gunshot wound was inflicted on Joie Thomas Mediqueaux by Charles Philbrick, at McGee Creek, in Long Valley, about 9 o'clock Sunday morning. The wounded man was given treatment a short time later by Dr. Pearson, and was taken to Lone Pine, where he died about 4 that afternoon.

The reported circumstances were as follows: Mediqueaux and two other men, Donald Roberts and Clifton Henigar, all from Los Angeles, came to the resort and demanded possession of a Phymouth roadster which Philbrick had. Philbrick says that the men did not show any authority for the demand and did not claim that they represented a finance corporation. They had a scrap of paper on which the engine number had been written. It is not clear why, with no other evidence, Philbrick should have paid any attention to the demand; but he got into the car and started to drive it around to his camp, so that his wife could find in it the car purchase contract. Mediqueaux undertook to climb in, for what purpose doubtless evidence will show, whereupon Philbrick picked up a pistol in the car and shot.

The ball, 38 caliber, struck Mediqueaux in the left side about opposite the fifth rib and ranged diagonally downward. It penetrated the lung and cut vessels and intestines in its course, and lodged on the right side above the pelvic bone, so near to the surface that it could be felt from the outside.

Mediqueaux and associates demanded the payment of $139, Philbrick says that all payments that were due have been made, and it was to prove this that he began to drive the car to where Mrs. Philbrick could get the papers in it. The purchase was made by her before their marriage about a year ago.

Philbrick was arrested and taken to Bridgeport by Sheriff Dolan. In Lone Pine, following the death of Mediqueaux, Coroner Carrasco held an inquest, the verdict being that he had come to his death from a gunshot wound inflicted by Charles Philbrick. The victim was 31 years old, a native of Cherokee, Oklahoma, and from appearance was of part Indian ancestry. It is said here that he came here some time ago on car reclamation business, and secured temporary possession of a car by breaking open the garage in hich it was kept.

Philbrick has been filling an overseer's position with the Macco Construction Co., engaged in road building along that section of Long Valley. Those who have known him for a number of years speak of him most favorably, and the people at the McGee Creek resort are equally pronounced in their favorable opinion of Mr. and Mrs. Philbrick.

In Bridgeport Tuesday, September 27 was set as the date for the preliminary hearing. Glenn E. Tinder is the defendant's attorney.

COMMITTED TO NORWALK

John Orr, ex-highway employee, explained to Judge Dehy and Drs. Boody and Crook last Saturday that the reason for his trying to hang himself in the Independence jail Thursday was that a crowd outside wanted to lynch or shoot him, and he mihgt as well end himself before they did. The suicide attempt was by use of a belt strap fastened to an overhead projection in the jail, and was frustrated by prompt action of the officers. Orr was committeed to Norwalk State hospital, from which he was released not long ago. L. J. Horton and Sheriff Hutchison took him south Saturday, much against the insane man's will, he insisiting that a mob was waiting for him as soon as he left the jail.

Arrangements are being made by Mt. Whitney Lodge, K. P., of Lone Pine, to hold a picnic for Pythians and Pythian Sisters and their families at Keough Springs on October 16.All concerned note.

TEACHERS RECEPTION

Specially furnished for the occasion, the high school auditorium presented a very homey appearance Friday night for the reception given to Bishop teachers by the Methodist Ladies' Aid, Improvement Club and Thimble Club, with assistance of the churches. While there was a satisfactory attendance, it was an almost Adamless Eden, mere men forming only a small proportion of the number present. With Mrs. Houghton, of the trustees, presiding, a brief program was given, including addresses by Rev. H. C. Mullen, Rev. Earl D. Hillis, response by H. W. Moore, and vocal solos by Mrs. McMurry, Mrs. Van Loon and Don C. Palmer; accompaniments by Mrs. Tomlinson and Mrs. Palmer. Different groups were called on for stunt performances, some of which were clever despite lack of advance preparation. Refreshments were served:

HOPKINS ON HIGHWAYS

State Highway Commissioner Harry Hopkins gave the Rotary Club Friday evening an interesting review of highway matters. Statistics showing the work done, what is to be done and the advantages secured from the investment made were enlightening. He pointed out that Inyo and Mono had been well treated in receiving an allotment of $230,000 of federal relief money for their road improvements while some much larger counties were to receive none. He commended the energy of Senator Joe Riley in his constant activity for the interests of his district.

Commissioner Hopkins said, in conversation, that the Montgomery road would receive official consideration at an early date.

URGES MONO BASIN WORK

A resolution calling on the city's Water and Power Department to take immediate steps toward a start on the Mono Basin water project as an unemployment relief measure, was unanimously adopted yesterday by the Board of Supervisors on motion of Supervisor Shaw.

"A bond issue in the sum of $38,-800,000 was voted for this project in May, 1930." Supervisor Shaw declared. "I believe the bond market is in such a shape now that the bonds could be sold. If this work could be started, it certainly would aid in a great measure in taking men from our ranks of the unemployed."—L. A. Times, Sept. 20.

EASTERN STAR

Spanish suggestions in dress and a finely executed garden setting for the dining tables were features of the Eastern Star meeting Saturday night, an occasion which those present testify was one of the loveliest affairs among local entertainment events. Feature events were the presentation to Mrs. Mary S. Bush, Deputy Grand Matron and guest of honor, of gifts on behalf of the valley chapters. Kearsarge Chapter of Independence and Sierra of Big Pine were represented in the large attendance.

HOLDING HER OWN

Mrs. Ralph Vellom was taken to Glendale hospital this week for an operation for appendicitis. Adding to a pecularly dangerous condition, a son was brn to her. Reports yesterday were gloomy, but this morning's information is that she is holding her own, and that the baby is all right.

Tales of the Pioneers

AN EARLY CERRO GORDOAN

(Continuation of account by Dr. Hugh K. McClelland.)

Cerro Gordo's population at this time included a much mixed population. There were men who had fled from the vigilantes of Montana and Idaho, horsethieves from California's valleys, renegade Mexicans who had been drniven out of Sonora. What few tenderfeet came from the eastern States soon found the place too strenuous. There were good people as well, in legitimate lines of business; but the night life and street affairs were amply supplied from the less desirable ranks.

The dance halls were open all night and part of the day. Musical instruments consisted of harp, banjo, guitar, violin, piccolo, etc. The dances were mostly square dances and of short duration, as the barkeeper wished to be active in dispensing drinks at 25 cents each. All kinds of drinks were dispensed, such as whisky, mescal, yerba denta, sylvesa, etc., but no soft drinks such as lemonade were ever called for. Anything in the shape of drinks that would not produce a tingle in the nerves and put a fighting edge on the dancers was not thought of.

I seldom visited the dance halls except in cases when some one was shot, or cut, which was of frequent occurrence. One evening at Boston's hotel I met a young man who had drifted into the camp from the State of Delaware. He said that he would like to visit the dance halls, and asked me if I would accompany him. I was only too glad to do this, wishing to note the effect on him, especially as a shooting might take place any time. The dance hall girls all had fictitious names, and some very odd ones I can tell you. The stranger seemed to be anxious to learn the names of the dancing girls, who were mostly Mexican, The Horned Toad, a fiery high-tempered Mexican girl, was on the floor cutting some high and fantastic stunts when the young man asked me her name. I told him she was the Horned Toad, and she overheard me and came at me like a flash with stiletto drawn, and would have plunged it into me had not the Fenian, a beautiful Irish girl, caught her by the wrist. The Horned Toad disliked the name given her very much, and was ready at all times to fight, and especially when under the influence of liquor. A Mexican who was a friend of hers came running toward me with a knife in his hand, and George Snow, who saw that something serious might happen to me, shot the Mexican dead. This resulted in a general shooting, and the lights were extinguished at once. The hall became filled with powder smoke, and pandemonium reigned.

The young man who went with me I never saw from that night. I was told he left camp in the night, headed down the mountain in the direction of Lone Pine.

George Snow was arrested and taken before a Justice of the Peace by the name of Snodgrass, who was a six-footer and from Missouri. Several witnessed the killing and testified as to the aggressiveness of Snow and accuracy of his gunfire, and were of the opinion that the murder could have been avoided had Snow been less hasty and more considerate. When the testimony was all in, the Justice turned to Snow and said to him: "The court fines you thirty dollars, and if the fine is not paid in thirty days the court will go your security."

BARNEY SAW WILD TURKEYS

Barney Johnson, proprietor of Crystal Crag Lodge on Lake Mary, reports that while on a trip through the mountains in the region of Purple Lake, he saw a flock of wild turkeys, nine in number, made up of three toms and six hens. The toms, Mr. Johnson said, would average in weight, 7 to 12 pounds, each. It was the first time, he said, that he had ever encountered any wild turkeys on this side of the High Sierras. —Bridgeport Chronicle-Union.

Those who are willing to form a fair judgment on the bonus issue should read and open-mindedly consider facts as presented by leading men of the nation. The following is from a letter by President Hoover last week:

"I have the duty not alone to see that justice and a sympathetic attitude is taken by this Nation toward the 4,000,000 veterans and their families, but also to exert myself for justice to the other 21,000,000 families to whom consummation of this proposal at this time would be a calamity. Cash payment of face value of certificates today would require an appropriaion from the Treasury of about $2,300,000,000.

"No matter how or in what form the payment to the veterans is imposed, it will come out of all these families, but, of more importance, it will indefinitely set back any hope of recovery for employment, agriculture or business and will impose infinite distress upon the whole country.

"We owe justice and generosity to the men who have served under our Flag. Our people have tried to discharge that obligation. Regular expenditures on account of the veterans already constitute nearly a billion a year, or almost one-fourth of our whole Federal budget.

"Every right-thinking man has the deepest sympathy for the veteran suffering from disability, for those out of work or for veterans on farms struggling with the adversities of the depression.

"But there are many million others in the same circumstances. They, too, must be entitled to consideration. Their employment and their farm recovery, as well as that of the veterans, can be secured only by the restoration of the normal economic life of the Nation.

"To that end we have been and are devoting our best efforts. Anything that stands in the way must be opposed. The welfare of the Nation as a whole must take precedence over the demands of any particular group.

"I do not believe that the veterans generally really understand the adjusted service certificate law (socalled bonus law) which was proposed by themselves. In its simplest terms that law provides that an annual sum of about $112,000,000 is to be paid into a fund which, with compound interest, is calculated to amount to a total of $3,500,000,000, the face value of certificates to be distributed in 1945.

Approximately $1,900,000,000 has been paid into this fund. Under the law of last year authorizing loans up to 50 per cent of the face amount of the certificates, if we take into consideration loans made through the veterans' life insurance fund which will have to be repaid, all this accumulated sum and more has already been distributed.

"If the Government distributed to the veterans the $112,000,000 annually from now on it would represent the Government's obligation. If these sums be kept in the fund the Government adds compound interest on each installment and gives a life insurance right.

"By paying the adjusted service certificates at their 1945 face value now the Government would not only be paying all remaining thirteen annual installments in advance, but would be paying the compound interest upon them in advance.

"This would I am advised, add about $2,250,000,000 to the amount which the people of the United States, acting through Congress, undertook to pay when they gave the certificates.

"No such sum is available. It cannot be raised by adding to the crushing burden of taxes which drain every family budget in our country today and weigh heavily on business struggling in the midst of depression.

"It cannot be borrowed without impairment of the credit of the National Government and thus destroy that confidence upon which our whole system depends. It is unthinkable that the Government of the United States should resort to the printing press and the issuance of fiat currency as provided in the bill which passed the House at the last session of Congress under the leadership of the Democratic Vice President candidate.

"Such an act of normal bankruptcy would depreciate and might ultimately destroy the value of every dollar in the United States. It would cause the collapse of all confidence in our Government and would bring widespread ruin to the entire country and to every one of our citizens.

"Daniel Webster, 100 years ago, stated: He who tampers with the currency robs labor of its bread. He panders, indeed, to greedy capital, which is keen sighted, and may shift for itself; but he beggars labor, which is honest, unsuspecting and too busy with the present to calculate for the future. The prosperity of the working classes lives, moves and has its being in established credit, and a steady medium of payment. And the experience of every government in the world since that day has confirmed Webster's statement.

"Let us not forget that while we have lost much in this depression, we still have much more to lose. And our whole future may be said to depend upon early recovery.

"For many months the right-thinking men of both parties have been engaged in organizing and mobilizing the resources of the Nation to promote the economic recovery which is the one sure and effective means of restoring the standard of living of all our people and rescuing millions of them from suffering and misery.

"The proposal to levy over $2,000,000,000 and to pay it to a particular group constitutes a fatal threat to the entire program of recovery, to the success of which all must look for their wellbeing, security and happiness."

This should not be a partisan issue in any way; it is a matter of justice to a financially troubled nation. Governor Al Smith accords fully with the President's position, and in the Saturday Evening Post of September 17 had an article pointing out highly important facts. He attributes the present agitation to Congressional politics. He shows that President Wilson laid down a system of care of veterans and their dependents that was 100 per cent acceptable to

SAVE WITH SIX CYLINDERS

—with more than six you sacrifice economy
—with less than six you sacrifice smoothness

IF YOU'RE careful about the way you spend your dollars for a low-priced car, you'll be extra-careful about the way you count cylinders. Because if you count more than six, you're not going to get the lowest all-round motoring cost that is saving so many thousands of dollars for Chevrolet owners every day.

If you count less than six—you won't be any better off from a dollars-and-cents standpoint. Six is the smallest number of cylinders you can have, and still get Chevrolet's built-in smoothness. And it's built-in smoothness that saves you money in so many ways! It protects the youth of the car—its stamina—and low maintenance cost. It guards against the insidious workings of excessive vibration. It holds repair bills down to rock-bottom.

But if the car is a Chevrolet Six—you'll SAVE! You'll enjoy the lowest all-round operating cost available in today's automobile market. And because of the simplicity of Chevrolet engine-design and the ease with which adjustments can be made, you'll save on repair-costs, too!

ESPECIALLY AFTER 5,000 MILES

What's even more important—you'll keep on saving, month after month, season after season. There's nothing temporary about Chevrolet economy. It lasts! Especially after 5,000—10,000—15,000 miles, when the cost of operating other low-priced cars goes up, Chevrolet's cost stays down. More economical to start with, Chevrolet is more economical still, after long usage!

Best of all: you can save with six cylinders, and not sacrifice one single thing that makes a car a pride to own and a pleasure to drive! You enjoy the delightful handling-ease of Free Wheeling in combination with Syncro-Mesh gear-shifting—the comfort of roomy Fisher bodies. The satisfaction of driving one of the smartest-looking cars on the road. And considering the fact that you can enjoy all these things, for such a low purchase price and such small monthly payments—do you honestly think it's wise—or economical—to keep that old car any longer?

the nation and to veterans at that time, and regarded as the most generous compensation plan ever offered in any country. He shows the early fairer attitude of the Legion and the growth of this present grab scheme, through lobbyists and a minority. The largest single item in the governmental budget is veterans' relief. Since the close of the war more than six billion dollars has thus been used. By 1945 the total commitments under present laws will be more than $23,000,000,000, equal to the whole direct cost of the war to this country. Twenty years later, he quotes statisicians as estimating, the outlay for veterans relief will equal the entire present cost of government, if the Legion proposals are adopted

Governor Smith says that injured and disabled veterans who met with their disability in the war or from causes directly traceable to it should be provided for to the limit of the country's ability. "It is a vastly different matter to pass out hundreds of millions of dollars to men—to say nothing of their dependents—who received no injury in the war, who saw no real service and who incurred no disabiliy as a result of their enlistment."

Senator Borah, midway between Smith and Hoover in partisan matters, agrees with both on this issue. He declared last week:

"I am sure it would have been far more satisfactory to the Legion hereafter if they had taken into consideration the condition of the country and awaited its recovery to some extent at least before acting.

"When 10,000,000 men and women face the winter without work, when homes are being lost and farms are being abandoned because of taxes and debts, when it is a very serious question of how the government is going to get through the winter with its terrific load to carry, it would have been far better for the standing reputation of the Legion if it had postponed action.

"If the Congress is made up of men worthy to represent a great people in an hour of trouble, it will respectfully, but firmly, say that the taxpayers of this country are carrying all the burden they can carry at this time and that these veterans must share the common load with the people and wait."

From the File of 1907

Inyo Register, Sept. 19, 1907:

S. P. Jewett, president, and Geo. B. Reeve, second vice president of the Los Angeles & Owens Valley railway company, left Tuesday after a stay of several days here. Mr. Jewett says no deal with the city of Los Angeles over power matters has been made but one is probable.

Three surveys have been made for connecting the Bodie & Benton railroad with the Nevada & California.

A building 20 by 24 is being built northwest of the high school to serve as labor and Western Federation headquarters.

Dalter Baker, in his twenty-first year, died at Big Pine Monday night. Current reports are that ptomaine poisoning was the cause.

This community is not making the fight of either the power company or the workingmen, but is against any interference with local affairs not connected with the points at issue. Such is the tenor of the report of the citizens' committee recently appointed. It goes on record as disposed to resent and resist any interference with individual freedom of action. It will not accept or agree to efforts being made to organize all labor of every nature, even to the Indian washerwomen, into a union. The report is signed by the twenty-one committeemen, and by more than a hundred other business men and citizens.

Supervisors have set the county tax rate at $2.00, including 44½ cents of State rate.
